The Service of a Notetaker

The G.A.D. has recently embarked on a new project aiming to establish a notetaking service within the education system. Most of the time, the majority of hearing impaired students depend on lipreading and /or sign language to follow what is going on in class. Therefore it is quite a difficult task for them to watch the speaker or the interpreter and take notes at the same time. For this reason a notetaker is indispensable as the student would be able to focus on the lesson all the time while the notetaker provides the notes to be used for revision later on.
